Assemblin signs new national framework agreement with Sinfra

Assemblin EI has signed a new framework agreement with Sinfra, the Swedish Purchasing Center for Infrastructure, regarding the possibility of offering electrical and automation services in existing buildings and production-related operations (industrial processes) as well as in new installation projects.

Sinfra is an economic association with over 500 members, mainly publicly owned companies and organizations within public infrastructure. The members represent businesses within district heating, water and sanitation, and electricity networks, making Sinfra a central player for sustainable and efficient infrastructure in Sweden.

Sinfra has now signed a new framework agreement with Assemblin EI, which will be valid from the beginning of December 2025. The assignment is valid for one year with the possibility of extension for up to three years and means that Assemblin will be one of a selected group of suppliers who have the opportunity to offer services after a tendering procedure.

"We are proud of the opportunity to deliver our services to Sinfra and its members. The agreement is a testament to our expertise and ability to contribute with high-quality solutions within electrical installation and automation, which is crucial for creating reliable and sustainable infrastructure solutions," says Jonas Klarén, CEO of Assemblin EI, SVP.
