Assemblin strengthens its position within electrical in the Stockholm region

Assemblin El acquires Wasastadens Eltjänst AB, with annual revenue of SEK 53 million and 20 employees, thereby strengthening its delivery capacity within electrical in the Stockholm region, Sweden.

Wasastadens Eltjänst AB was founded in 1979 and has since developed into a professional electrical company with broad expertise, primarily in energy-efficient technologies within power, lighting, lightning protection, networks and fiber, UPS and backup power, fire alarms, as well as in project planning. With a head office located in Stockholm, the company undertakes both installation projects and service assignments across the Mälardalen region. The customer base consists primarily of authorities, municipalities and construction companies.

"With this acquisition, we further strengthen our market position in the Stockholm area. Wasastadens Eltjänst is a well-run and profitable electrical company with a high level of expertise, and it is with great pleasure that we welcome new employees and customers to Assemblin," says Fredrik Allthin, CEO Sweden, EVP, Assemblin Caverion Group.

Bengt Ström and Martin Klasson, current main owners of Wasastadens Eltjänst, will continue in the business.

"Becoming part of Assemblin is a great way for us to ensure continued positive development for Wasastadens Eltjänst through access to a larger network and added competences, which is beneficial for both our employees and customers," says Bengt Ström, President of Wasastadens Eltjänst.
